Mammoth Crowd Attends July Fourth Fete Sunday

Rain in the early afternoon on July 4th dampened the spirits and persons of a large crowd assembled to participate in the Independence Day celebration to be held at the city beach. However, with a let-up of the rain, the crowd surged back to the beach and resulted in what was thought to be the largest group ever assembled here for such an occasion.

The entire celebration was handled by members of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 and Auxiliary. They were given generous assistance by several non-members who in some cases worked as much as 12 hours to help bring about the tremendously successful celebration.

At least 60 prizes were awarded by the entertainment committee headed by Gerald V. Price Sr. Hundreds of children and adults participated in the many types of games and contests held between 2 and 5:30 p.m.

The hundred free tickets to the Star Theatre were distributed by the Legion through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scalfi, owners.

Speaking ceremonies were conducted by Commander Lucien W. Kidd, who introduced Mayor John Scalfi and Fireworks supplied by the Chamber of Commerce were fired by another committee headed by Gerald Price.

Delegate Reports On Trip To Magnolia Girls' State

BY ELODIE BRECHTEL

Early Saturday morning we, the four delegates of Bay St. Louis, Janet Breeland, Hilda Russell, Doodie Scalfi and I, left for Jackson, Mississippi where we were to represent our town at Magnolia Girls' State.

We arrived in Jackson that afternoon and were immediately shown into the Registrar's office where we were appointed to different parties, towns and counties. After we were given our respective rooms we then began a week of hard work and great responsibility.

The two parties, Nationalists and Federalists, met separately to discuss their platform and elect their candidates for office.

The next day found all the nominees campaigning for the election—and what they did!

It seems everyone wanted the Nationalists to take over, and take over they did! With the exception of about two Federalists, all high state officials belonged to the Nationalist party.

Jerelyn Ross of Meridian was elected Governor, defeating Federalist Alfred Stewart of Hattiesburg.

During the next three days members of the House of Representatives and Senate of Magnolia Girls' State invaded the Capitol and got down to the serious work of passing bills. The Senate and House were divided into different committees and it was their job to pass at least one bill pertaining to every young citizen who is interested in their committee, and if necessary be able to argue it down.

We worked very hard those three

To Protest Salt, Fresh Water Boundary

South Side US 90 To Mark Line; Dividing Line Effective August 1

Legion Auxiliary Joint Installation Next Tuesday Nite

A storm of protest followed the action of the State Seafood Commission last week when they set the dividing line of fresh and salt water fishing areas along the coast at the south boundary of US Highway 90.

The new ruling, which goes into effect August 1, would require persons fishing from bridges along the highway or in the Bay of St. Louis above the bridge to comply with fresh water fishing regulations.

City officials, local organizations including the Chamber of Commerce and American Legion, and various civic leaders feel that the new ruling will have a detrimental effect on the community. It was pointed out that such a ruling would lead to adverse publicity and would result in the loss of good will, especially among out-of-town visitors who chiefly come from Louisiana and would need a non-resident fishing permit to fish from the bridge or the upper end of the Bay of St. Louis.

City Commissioner Sylvan J. Ladner told the EAGLE yesterday that the city would "protest vigorously" the new boundary line. They will ask that the line be extended to the end of the seawall north to the mouth of the Bay to the mouth of the Jordan River.

The local American Legion, which has officially filed a protest to the action, said they had taken the action because they felt "the setting of the freshwater line at that point would be detrimental to the best interests of the community."

In a statement to the EAGLE yesterday, the Legion public relations officer said:

"Is not our intention to reflect on the integrity of any member of either the Mississippi Seafood Commission or the State Game and Fish Commission in the setting of this line. Apparently the Commissions had good reasons for their actions. However, we feel that the setting of the line at that point can lead to much adverse publicity for the community and do much to shatter the good will we have helped to establish in recent months."

"The Legion has been engaged in efforts to promote Bay St. Louis and Hancock County through a series of events designed to gain good publicity for the community. The success of this . . . was shown by the tremendous influx of out-of-town visitors in Hancock County during the Fourth of July weekend."

"No matter how widely advertised, visitors will naturally assume that the waters at the bridge are saltwater and therefore open to free fishing by them," the public relations officer continued.

"The visitors will be required to buy a license or be subjected to a fine for fishing in what is actually saltwater."

"There will be much wailing and howling by these unlucky victims. Bay St. Louis and Hancock County will suffer from the adverse publicity from these visitors . . ."

"Our own people will be required to have a fishing license in order to fish with plugs or lures from the highway bridge. This is unthinkable, when it is so readily apparent to all that no freshwater fish are found south of the north end of the seawall."

They're Off In A Bunch In The Big Subscription Contest Race

HANCOCK COUNTY EAGLE IS OFF TO HOLLYWOOD

Booming along on the wings of enthusiasm and with the stamp of public approval already placed upon it, this big "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest is rapidly assuming big proportions.

We welcome the ever-growing number of new subscribers now being added to our lists, and also thank the many regular readers who are taking advantage of the money-saving opportunity to renew their subscriptions at the special reduced rates now in effect.

The earnest, hard-working contestants, without exception are meeting with gratifying success on every hand in their quest for subscriptions (the points issued on each prepaid order, of course, means the winning votes for them) and this newspaper appreciates the wholehearted response shown by the people of this area to the subscription drive.

The encouragement thus extended to the fine participants for prizes spells SUCCESS in large capital letters, for this local enterprise and by the same token will enable us to serve better, in every way to the general interest of this entire community.

PAY CHECKS AWARDED WEEKLY

And it is our pleasure each week to issue substantial commission checks to the various contestants in the race for individual results obtained, and in due course the most aggressive ones will reap their greater reward in the form of rich prizes and the big cash bonus awards all in accordance with the extremely liberal offer outlined in the opening announcement of the contest.

So far, the race has been a remarkably close one between several contestants and, therefore, much depends upon the RESULT obtained this and next week—while it is still possible to get the BIG "first period" votes on the subscriptions. Therefore, our best advice to those who really want to win is to put forth their supreme efforts NOW!

COLMER HAILS COMMITTEE TUNG VOTE

Frederick Charles Harris, 83, father of Mrs. Erle Kirkpatrick, died Wednesday June 23 at 1:45 p.m. in Lakewood Hospital, Lakewood, Ohio.

Congressman Wm. M. Cannon (D-Miss.) author of the tung oil import support bill.

A native of London, England, the legislation, today expected to pass, deceased had been a citizen and resident of the US for a number of both the House and the Senate Committee on Agriculture to return a mandatory floor price of 60¢ on 60 per cent parity tung oil.

"Keeping this price support means the difference between prosperity and bankruptcy for hundreds of tung tree growers in south Mississippi and other Gulf states," Cannon said.

"This committee action is only the first step, but a very important one, in the fight to save the domestic tung industry from being overwhelmed by a flood of foreign tung produced oil imported from Argentina."

The South Mississippi Congressman added: "We have every reason to be confident that the action of the Committees will be upheld upon the floor of the House and the Senate and thus the mandatory import price will be continued over the objections of the President and the Secretary of Agriculture."

"All that will then be needed is to stabilize this industry, which means so much to our economy, is to win our fight before the Tariff Commission to regulate the flow of these cheap oils from foreign countries. This hope also justifies in view of the President's recommendation recently to the Tariff Commission."

Mammoth Crowd Attends July Fourth Fete Sunday

Rain in the early afternoon on July 4th dampened the spirits and persons of a large crowd assembled to participate in the Independence Day celebration to be held at the city beach. However, with a let-up of the rain, the crowd surged back to the beach and resulted in what was thought to be the largest group ever assembled here for such an occasion.

The entire celebration was handled by members of the Clement R. Bon temps post 139 and Auxiliary. They were given generous assistance by several non-members who in some cases worked as much as 12 hours to help bring about the tremendously successful celebration.

At least 60 prizes were awarded by the entertainment committee headed by Gerald V. Price Sr. Hundreds of who participated in the free street dance held on North Beach while the owner, a Mr. Wesley, was here on a fishing trip.

The plane, a 4-place Navion, was a total loss.

The fire was thought to have originated in the unattended plane from a short in the wiring.

Speaking ceremonies were conducted by Commander Lucien W. Kidd, who introduced Mayor John Scafide and committee headed by Gerald Price.

Mississippi Congressmen have every reason to believe the action of the House and the Senate will be approved upon the bill. This hope is in view of the presentation recently to the Secretary of State.

It then be needed to industry, which means, is to win our

Delegate Reports On Trip To Magnolia Girls' State

BY ELODIE BRECHTEL

Early Saturday morning we, the four delegates to Bay St. Louis, Janet Breland, Hilda Russell, Doudie Seaford and I, left for Jackson, Mississippi where we were to represent our town at Magnolia Girls' State.

We arrived in Jackson that afternoon and were immediately shown into the Registrar's office where we were appointed to different parties, towns and counties. After we were given our respective rooms we then began a week of hard work and great responsibility.

The two parties, Nationalists and Federalists, met separately to discuss their platform and elect their candidates for office.

The next day found all the nominees campaigning for the election—and what an election!

It seems everyone wanted the Nationalists to take over, and take over they did! With the exception of about two Federalists, all high state officials belonged to the Nationalist party.

Jerolyn Ross of Meridian was elected governor, defeating Federalist Mildred Stewart of Hattiesburg.

During the next three days members of the House of Representatives and Senate of Magnolia Girls' State invaded the Capitol and got down to the serious work of passing bills. The Senate and House were divided into different committees and it was their job to pass at least one bill pertaining to their committee, and if necessary be able to argue it down.

We worked very hard those three days and succeeded in passing such bills as raising teachers' salaries, etc., but with the generosity of the Mississippi as a dry state, and American Legion of Bay St. Louis we were given this opportunity.

Girls' State made us realize the extreme importance each individual plays in the welfare of his government.

We will always appreciate the knowledge we have obtained at Girls' State and as future citizens we are eager to put it to use for the betterment of our government and our country.

Legion Auxiliary Joint Installation Next Tuesday Nite

Newly-elected officers for the coming year for the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 and Auxiliary will be installed at a joint meeting of the two groups next Tuesday night at the Legion Home according to Lucien W. Kidd, outgoing leader of the local Legion.

According to Kidd, several State Legion officials are expected to attend the ceremonies here.

Following the installation ceremony, it is expected that a free crab boil will be provided. Other refreshments also will be served.

Kidd urged a full attendance of members and added that new or prospective members of the Post would be welcome to come and bring their wives or husbands.

City Commissioner Sylvan J. Ladher told the EAGLE yesterday that the city would protest vigorously the new boundary line. They will ask that the line be extended to the end of the seawall north to Thibronoff, seawall at the north end of the Bay to the mouth of the Jordan River.

The local American Legion, which has officially filed a protest to the action, said they had taken the action because they felt "the setting of the freshwater line at that point would be detrimental to the best interests of the community."

In a statement to the EAGLE yesterday, the Legion public relations officer said:

"It is not our intention to reflect on the integrity of any member of either the Mississippi Seafood Commission or the State Game and Fish Commission in the setting of this line. Apparently the Commissions had good reasons for their actions. However, we feel that the setting of the line at that point can lead to much adverse publicity for the community and do much to shatter the good will we have helped to establish in recent months."

"...The Legion has been engaged in efforts to promote Bay St. Louis and Hancock County through a series of events designed to gain good publicity for the community. The success of this... was shown by the tremendous influx of out-of-town visitors in Hancock County during the Fourth of July weekend."

"No matter how widely advertised, visitors will naturally assume that the water at the bridge are saltwater and therefore open to free fishing by them."

"The visitors will be required to buy a license or be subjected to a fine for fishing in what is actually saltwater."

"There will be much wailing and howling by these unlucky victims."

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County will suffer from the adverse publicity from these visitors..."

"Our own people will be required to have a fishing license in order to fish with plugs or lures from the highway bridge. This is unthinkable, when it is so readily apparent to all that no freshwater fish are found south of the north end of the seawall."

BUY AT HOME

This week the merchants of Bay St. Louis are having sales endeavoring to interest the local buying public in buying at home. Into the preparations for this sale goes the expense of advertising, purchasing new merchandise, extra help, etc. If a merchant does not get the extra business he had hoped for naturally he is disappointed and adds another figure to his loss column.

I wonder how many persons have ever considered their local merchant and professional man in the position he plays in their locality. First, he maintains an establishment, hires local help, contributes to every civic and charitable undertaking to the utmost and is always willing to listen to or participate in someone sponsoring a new endeavor or new business or interest in the community.

Your Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Lions Club are mainly operated by and supported by the professional and business men of your city. The purpose behind each of these organizations is civic betterment.

So many times a person will say "After going to Gulfport and New Orleans hunting such and such, I found it right here."

Sometimes we are so busy assuring ourselves that the local small town offers nothing of what we want, that we fail to recognize the great benefits that are ours to enjoy.

Give your local businesses a break and help Bay St. Louis to grow with the money you spend here. From your altars, you are reminded to be your brother's keeper, and also to practice charity. Sometimes the extremely small profit a purchaser will gain on a purchase away from home is so small that it wasn't worth the bother, and they sincerely regret not having traded with some local person whom they know have profited from the small profit.

Prisoner of War Playing Sun. Mon. at Hiway Drivein

The startling, shocking truth about Korea! That's the story of MGM's "Prisoner of War," brought to the Hi-Way-In Screen Sunday and Monday while the unbelievably inhuman treatment of American and United Nations troops captured by the Reds still is a matter for daily headlines.

Ronald Reagan, Steve Forrest, Dewey Martin and Oscar Homolka head the large cast of this immortal picture of MGM's 30th Anniversary year.

Among other leading players are Robert Horton, Paul Stewart, Leonard Strong, Darryl Hickman and John Lupton.

It was on August 12, 1953 that the General Walker docked in San Francisco, carrying the first repatriated POW's from Korea. On hand to meet them was veteran screen writer Allen Rivkin, assigned by MGM studio head Dore Schary to explore the possibilities of a dramatic motion picture.

After interviewing some 60 of the returning GIs, Rivkin wrote his screen play.

After reading the "no punches pulled" script, Ronald Reagan an actor long recognized for his leadership in combating Communism at home, took for his role in the picture the two lead stars: Steve Forrest, recent stellar player of "Take the High Ground" and "So Big," and Dewey Martin, who made his MGM debut with Shelley Winters in "Tennessee Champs."

The picture's plot traces the reaction of these principals and other "prisoners" to the Red indoctrination methods, some refusing to fall for the Communist teachings, others breaking under pressure, in action as vivid and realistic as though filmed by news cameras.

Lt. and Mrs. Richard H. Thomas, who were married June 30 at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. Mrs. Thomas was before her marriage, Miss Alice Abigail Bourgeois.

MISS NEOMI MORAN BECOMES BRIDE OF FRANCIS SCHUBERT

One of the beautiful June weddings was that of Miss Neomi Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Moran and Francis J. Schubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Schubert of Bay St. Louis.

The ceremony took place at Our Lady of the Gulf Church June 19.

Father John Leonard officiated.

Vows were exchanged before the altar which was decorated with white gladioli and fern. Preceding the ceremony was a program of wedding music on the piano by Mrs. J. Hemmeltbach played by Mrs. David Bradley son of "Today, Oh Lord" and "Peter, Peter". He played the traditional wedding march of the piper and the recessional of the bride and party.

The bride was given in marriage at the double ring ceremony by her brother, Edward Moran. She wore a white gown fashioned of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle over a silk petticoat. The fitted blouse was designed with a modified off-the-shoulder neckline edged with a floral design of lace, and had long full sleeves ending in cuffs points over the hands.

The full skirt was scalloped in the designs of the lace and was worn over a hoop, with deep ruffles of the nylon tulle extending into a full length cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion was held to the head with a halo of seed pearls. Her bouquet was round and was made of three phalaenopsis orchids surrounded with lilies of the valley and maline. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. David Bradley of Gulfport was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Milton Buckley of Panama City, sister of the bride, Miss Joyce Randall, Gulfport, and Mrs. Delores Lemon of Ocean Springs. Carol June Buckley of Panama City, Fla., was flower girl.

John Schubert was best man for his brother and groomsmen were Leo Moran of Adrian Ala., brother of the bride, and Charles Poolson, Bay St. Louis. Ushers were Harold Carver and Thomas Kleen Alba.

Following the church ceremonies a reception was held at the Hotel Reed. Gladoli and fern were used for decorating the hotel dining room. Mrs. Moran, mother of the bride, received with the couple.

The bride's table was set with a linen cut work cloth and held an exquisite wedding cake topped with white rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Rene Bermon, sister of the bride, and Miss Peggy Hover alternated in cutting and serving the wedding cake.

Mrs. Billie Jean Rhodes and Miss Mary Catherine Maloney were tea girls. Mrs. J. T. Jacobs, another sister of the bride, handled the bride's register.

The young couple left on a motor trip through the West. They will make their home in New Orleans.
